Galilee news

A very large crowd of members and visitors attended the semi-session of the East and West Bound Sunday School Union Sunday at the Galilee Baptist Church school. The following order of service was followed: Sunday School conducted by the union; recess and preparing letters by delegates; business session; devotionals led by the president; welcome by superintendent J. A. Watson; response, Mrs. Dorothy Turner; reading and adoption of minutes; appointment of finance committee; reading of letters by delegates; appointment of the following committees: new schools, enrollment and hospitality; committees at work; special musical selections by Galilee Senior Choir; presentation of the guest speaker, by the president; sermon, Rev. Albert Davis; progress reports by local superintendents; the youth program; special offering, by deacons Charles Booker and James Megginson; committee reports; closing remarks by the president; closing hymn led by the choir; benediction, guest speaker Davis.

All who came out enjoyed the entire service. The session was very spiritual and inspiring.

The next session will be held with the Morning Star Sunday School.

Members and friends are invited to attend regular service next Sunday at 11 and at 3 p.m. at Galilee Baptist Church.

The 3 p.m. service will be rendered by the Forest Junior Choir of Meherrin, Va. The public is cordially invited to come out.

Members are reminded of the "Deacons and Trustees" Rally on the second Sunday in April at 3 p.m. The Rev. Williams, pastor of St. Andrew's Church of Cullen, Va., will be the speaker.

Local churches are urged to support the local cancer drive. Mr. Leon A. Lawing has been asked to serve as chairman among local churches.

The local assembly executive council will meet this Thursday evening at Galilee at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Martin are visiting their sons and their families in New York.

Mrs. Lillie Stevens is improving nicely after a short stay in the Lynchburg hospital.

Benefit gospel sing planned

There will be a gospel sing for the benefit of Kenny Hogan at Huddleston Elementary School April 2, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Kenny Hogan was seriously injured recently in an accident while cutting wood.

The accident left him paralyzed and he has been a patient in the University of Virginia hospital in Charlottesville. He was recently moved from U.Va. and has been sent to Fisherville to undergo a therapeutical program.

The doctors have said his chances of walking again are not good, but Kenny has the determination and faith to prove differently.

Medical expenses have been great thus far, and any donation will be greatly appreciated. Anyone wishing to send a donation may do so by sending it to Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hogan, Rt. 1, Box 99, Huddleston, Va. 24104.

Groups participating in the gospel sing include the Palestine Quartet, The Jimmy Meadow Family, and the Goodness Singers.

Gifted and Talented Dissecting Activity At Elementary School

By SANDY WALTON and TRACEY TRENT

"We prepared posters with the procedure and investigation of the dissection of the frog.

The first Friday we visited the Elementary School we went over the procedure of the dissection. Next, while Sandy demonstrated dissecting the frog, Tracey went over the investigation of the abdominal organs of the frog.

The next Friday we visited the Elementary School, we were prepared with frogs for the Gifted and Talented group to dissect. Tracey reviewed the procedure, and while the students were making incisions, reviewed the investigation of the abdominal organs of the frogs. We both helped the groups (in pairs) make incisions and observe. Any questions they had we tried to answer.

The students, we feel, thoroughly enjoyed dissecting the frogs and seemed to learn a great deal. Yet, it did take a while for the group to break in, meaning touching and really "digging in." There was one girl who was scared at first, but enjoyed it afterwards. Most of the students returned to their classes with their frog (or his/her groups' frog).

We enjoyed it and really liked working with the group, because they wanted to learn as much as we wanted to teach."

Robinson visits class
